HOPE FOR NEW JC RESTS ON LOAN EXTENSION

Mulhall Will Edit Student Handbook Unable To Remedy Conditions Here

Set Jan. 6 Date Of Distribution

Mary Mulhall was appointed editor of the Student Handbook today and announced that she will be assisted by Bob Kloess. The date of distribution is set for Jan. 6.

"Three new features will be added to this year's book which is a compilation of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the students and faculty," Miss Mulhall said.

"The executive board will be listed, the basketball and track schedule will be included, and the social calendar will be printed."

Alice Shannon, who is designing the cover, said that the color will be the traditional red and black, but a definite design has not yet been decided upon.

The handbooks will be free to Associated Students. A charge of 10 cents will be made to non-Associated students.

Board Sets Date Of Penny Fair

Los Gauchos service club will again sponsor the Penny fair, the date for which has been set by the executive board as Thursday, Feb. 9.

Each club will be permitted to keep 25 per cent of its proceeds, it was announced today.

Since the fair started in 1934 the profits have been used to provide many things for the college. The first year furniture was bought for the men's and women's lounges. The second year, money was used to buy radios. In 1936 kitchen utensils were purchased.

Ten New Members In Beta Gamma

Formal initiation of ten new members into Beta Gamma, jaycee extra-curricular society, was held recently in the mens lounge. Initiates who gave the traditional three-minute talk on varied subjects were George Aupperly, Anna May Archer, Phyllis Kogler, Isamu Masuda, Roy Potter, Aloen Miller, Gloria Kirchner, Barbara Speed, Walt Swanberger and Ed Velarde.

Following the initiation, President Donn Hart presided over a discussion of the pennant sale, urging everyone to buy one while they lasted.

Other members of the society are: Josephine Butler, secretary, Carroll Richardson, Gilman Brookings, Heen Lowe, Elaine McReynolds, Bill Twist and Joe Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Flint and Mr. and Mrs. John Tessmann are advisers.

Philosophy Department Offers New Social Relations Course

Instruction in the fundamentals of social behavior and family relations will be the theme of a new, two-unit philosophy course which will be given by Dr. Kyle A. Lyon next semester.

In explanation of the course, Director D. K. Hammond emphasized that it would not be one in etiquette, but was provided to answer questions of a more philosophical type than could be dealt with in regular orientation classes.

Alpha Rho Tau Opens Annual Card Sale

Under the supervision of Alpha Rho Tau, honorary art club, the annual sale of Christmas cards made by jaycee art students is progressing nicely, Miss Frances Egge, head of the department said today.

"Up to date about 225 cards have been sold," Miss Egge said.

"The 25 designs this year are entirely new and are made either from linoleum block prints or hand colored ozalind sun prints."

The cards are now on display in the art room and in the show case in College hall.

"The cards will be ready for delivery the week of Dec. 12 or as soon as possible," stated Miss Egge.

Gain In Enrollment Noted This Year

Increase in enrollment over last year of 63 students was announced today by Registrar Mabel G. Whiting. The total enrollment for the year is 965, about a 16 per cent increase over the students enrolled here last year.

Miss Whiting estimated that the enrollment might reach 1000 if late registrations boost the total.

Library Purchases 11 New Books

Eleven new books were added to the Junior College library, today stated Lillian Dickson, librarian.

Four of these books were written by well known writers, including, Richard E. Byrd's "Alone," "The Paderewski Memories," "Van Loon's 'Folk Song of many lands,' and Arnold Genthe's 'As I Remember.'"

Other recent additions are "Danger Is My Business," "35,000 Days In Texas," "California Missions," "Conspicuous California Plants," "Forest Trees of the Pacific Coast," "Green Worlds," and "The Summing Up."

Christmas Vacation Set For Dec. 16

Beginning Friday, December 16, a Christmas recess for jaycee students has been announced. The vacation, lasting 17 days, will come to a close Jan. 2.

Many out-of-town students will return home to visit friends and relations, it was reported. Other students plan to work for Santa Ana merchants.

'Trial by Jury' Scheduled For Wednesday Evening, Dec. 14

Continued preparations for the junior college's first musical public assembly was announced today, as Miss Myrtle A. Martin, music department head, announced night rehearsals for "Trial by Jury" will be held next week. The program, which is open to everyone, will be held Dec. 14 at 8 o'clock in the Santa Ana high school auditorium. No admission will be charged.

"Trial by Jury," Gilbert and Sullivan's one-act dramatic cantata, stars Bruce Buell, Ruth Alden, and Vernon Worden, supported by Wilbur Kamrath, Arthur Sherman, and Stanley Sebastian in featured roles. This particular selection, it was stated, is famous for its humorous satire on the English courts.

The junior college orchestra under Alan A. Revill's direction, and the women's Treble cleff and men's octet under Miss Martin's instruction, contribute important parts to the evening's program.

Completing the entertainment, Ernest Crozier Phillips will present the college drama students in a one-act play starring Ruth Rimel and Wally Grigg, with Garth Benjamin, Ramola Narducci, Vera Scott, and Aileen English in supporting parts. Wayne Tarvin is acting as student director, under Mr. Phillips supervision.

Novel Paper Patterns Displayed In Library

Elaborate lacy paper patterns are now on display in the library show case, announced Librarian Lillian Dickson today.

A. Brose, 20 year old Danish peasant boy, made the paper lace by folding pieces of paper and cutting various difficult patterns with a pair of scissors. The making of the lace patterns was probably inspired by the finely tatted lace made by the Danish people.

The patterns were secured by Miss Frances Egge, head of the jaycee art department and will be on display until Christmas vacation.

Check Grades Of NYA Students

BULLETIN
Thirty-three jaycee students were dropped from NYA jobs today because of grade deficiencies. Others are expected to be dropped next week.

Grades are now being checked of all students on NYA, Calvin C. Flint stated today.

"They must have at least 12 1/2 units of C's or above, or they will be withdrawn from the NYA. If grades are improved by Jan. 9 to meet the requirements, students will be reinstated," he said.

Open Lecture Series At SAHS Tonight

Through the cooperative efforts of four Orange county cities, Dr. John S. Moore, authority on international affairs, will speak at local forums during the month of December. He will open his lecture series tonight at Santa Ana high school's Little theater at 7:30 o'clock.

During the month Dr. Moore will speak at the Laguna Grammar school Monday nights. On Tuesday evenings he will appear at the Garden Grove High school and at Newport Harbor High on Thursday.

Still confronted by the problem of overcrowded classrooms and that of accommodating 100 additional students who are expected to enroll next semester, the educational authorities of Santa Ana are today placing their hopes on the possibility of an extension of the deadline for Santa Ana's acceptance of the offer of Federal aid for a new jaycee.

Realizing the futility of accommodating the additional semester enrollment under present circumstances and opposing the union junior college plan, the board has at present, several alternatives for enlargement in mind as a final resort should the offer of federal aid fall through, it was learned.

ALTERNATIVES

Unless the extension of the deadline for acceptance of federal aid is definitely rejected by congress at its January meeting, any of the alternative plans would prove to be an obvious waste of finances, according to school authorities.

Because past methods of remedying overcrowded situations by addition of faculty members and lengthening the students' day have already been so burdening on many students, the school board must now prepare another plan to accommodate the students who have the legal right to attend classes here, Director D. K. Hammond said.

Most encouraging factor in the new campaign is the fact that the local Chamber of Commerce seems to be pushing the drive for a change in the jaycee system and may back the Board of Education in its attempts for modernization.

Field Trips Planned By Zoology Classes

Corona Del Mar and Newport Bay will serve as laboratories for zoology classes when they take field trips Tuesday and Thursday afternoons next week.

There will be minus tides on these days, said J. Russell Bruff zoology instructor. He explained that the minus tides come in the afternoons during December, and that they are minus one-and-one-half foot.

The live marine material collected from the ocean will be put on exhibit in aquariums in the science building. An effort will be made to keep the specimens alive until Christmas vacation.

Another field trip is being planned for the class to the San Diego Zoo next spring, Bruff said.

Lower Prices Used At Jaycee Dances

Prices for the jaycee dances have been cut one-half for members of the Associated Students according to Dean of Men Calvin C. Flint. Because nearly all of the students in the college are members of Associated Students and therefore are urged to attend the activities of it, the admission price was lowered.

Prices which were 50 cents to members are now lowered to 25 cents. The charge for any outsiders will remain the same, 75 cents.

The new prices went into effect at the AWS dance and will be used for the coming Christmas dance, according to Mr. Flint.

Opera Reading Club In First Meeting

Music Critic Will Address Group

Alfred Leonard, N.B.C. radio commentator, will speak on "The History of Recorded Music" at the initial meeting of the Opera Reading club at the home of Miss Myrtle A. Martin, jaysee music instructor, 1228 North Broadway, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The new club will discuss opera and symphony music, said Jack Lighthart, organizer of the society. Study will be carried on chiefly by means of recordings.

NINE MEMBERS

Nine jaysee students have been asked to join the group. New members will be added to the club by invitation later in the year.

NEW IDEA

"The organization is a new idea in Southern California, but we hope to make it a national association," Lighthart said.

The guest speaker was a former Berlin music critic and is now a commentator on the Hollywood bowl opera series. Mr. Leonard also conducts the radio program "Symphonies under the Stars."

Tattlers See Tour Movies In Color

Names of nine new members who were inducted into the society recently were given out by Carroll Richardson, president of the club.

Balboa Will Be Scene Of OK Club Party

Betty Lou Geiger will be hostess to O. K. club members at a Christmas party to be held Tuesday, December 13, in her home at 1595 Ocean boulevard, Balboa, today said Mary Malcom, president of the club.

Elections for secretary and treasurer will be held at the meeting to fill vacancies left by Margaret Mills and Fred Beecher, who are no longer attending jaysee.

BUCCANEERS

Informal and formal initiations will be held by Buccaneer members on Dec. 5 and 12, it was announced today by George Aupperle, president of the club.

Initiation Unites Two Jaysee Clubs

Coalition of Phi Sigma Alpha and the International Relations club was announced today by Orville Knutsen, faculty adviser for both groups, following Tuesday's initiation of 27 new members into the joint society for the promotion of world peace.

Previously two distinct campus chapters of the same international society, the union will be known as Phi Sigma Alpha, the International Relations club.

PEACE LITERATURE

As in the past, it will be furnished literature by the Carnegie Endowment fund, promoting peace through understanding of the causes of war.

Deviating from the past practice of receiving only sophomores, six of this year's pledges were freshmen. With the transfers from last year's clubs, the new organization has a student membership of 31.

OLD OFFICERS

Debaters Launch Conference Season

Fullerton Host Next Wednesday

Five Don debaters launch the current conference forensic season next Thursday at Fullerton when they participate in the first league tournament of the year. Students who will represent Santa Ana this year include Ernest Brett, Isamu Masuda, G. Brookings, James Tranter, and Edward Budd.

The debaters are prepared to discuss the affirmative and negative sides of the conference question: "Resolved: That the United States should cease to use public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

SEVEN COMPETE
Representatives of all seven colleges in the Eastern division conference will compete for debate honors in the Fullerton tournament. According to Crawford F. Brubaker, debate commissioner of Pomona, who is in charge of the conference, the teams include Riverside, Citrus, Chaffey, Fullerton, Chaffey, Santa Ana, and Santa Ana jay-

se. Santa Ana took second place in the conference race last year, finishing behind San Bernardino with 15 wins and 10 losses among teams.

Names Make News; Men When Wrong

Names make news, but they can be right! Freshman journalists were faced with that problem this week when they began the annual task of naming the correct names of local faculty members.

Among the first year "boners" noted yesterday were the following "make believe" faculty names submitted in a college quiz: Gordon H. Revill, Frederick J. Lyon, Leilly D. Tessmann, Thomas Anderson, Frank Scott, Grace Miller, and Mrs. Agnes Humeston.

The correct names should read: Alan A. Revill, Dr. Kyle A. Lyon, Mrs. John Tessmann, Miss Muriel Anderson, H. A. Scott, Miss Agnes Todd Miller, and Miss Genevieve Humeston.

DIFFICULT TASK
The task of getting the proper name in the proper place is not an easy one, the beginning journalism students agree. In case of doubt, they urge that some one else try it sometime.

University President Pleads For Peace

"Peace" was the text of the speech given by Dr. Elam Anderson Monday at the Ebell hall. "If quarrelling were to be abolished, so would war," stated Dr. Anderson.

"Difference of opinion, prejudice of races, failure to face facts, and the use of psychological force are the main factors which influence quarrelling and encourage war-fare. If we have enough perseverance to strive for a harmonious relationship, we may have everlasting peace" concluded Dr. Anderson.

Local Student Globe Trotter; London, Paris, Athens Home

Four extensive tours of Europe and Russia, a visit in Alaska, a short stay in Panama, and a number of trips which have touched every state in the United States and most of Canada is the enviable travel record of jaycee student James Pias.

For the last two years Pias has lived in San Clemente, and this is the longest time he has made his home in any one place.

LIVED IN LONDON
He boasts of having lived in such major cities as Paris, Athens, London, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, Memphis, Miami, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. Pias had been a passenger on practically every large ship except the Queen Mary.

PARIS BEST
"Paris is the most interesting city I have visited," said Pias. "There are more historical landmarks and other things of interest to explore. You never have a dull moment."

The jaycee student, whose travels have taken him into 15 schools, has attended the largest high school in the world, Lane Tech of Chicago.

Hoopsters Prepare For Tournament

Awaiting the season's opener in the Chaffey tournament next Friday night, 35 Don basketballers went through pre-season practice this week to get in shape for their 1938-39 schedule.

Coach Bill Cook's five—seven of them—face an unnamed foe in their first game in the Chaffey tourney at Ontario. Their opponent was to be named today.

Students Select New Transfer

Confronted with the problem today of deciding between two surveying entries in the recent decalcomania transfer competition, three contest judges announced they will submit the problem of the final choice to the Associated students when they ballot for officers.

The judging committee, composed of Miss Frances Egge, head of the art department, Josephine Butler, and Carroll Richardson, stated that the two decalcomania designs which they have selected as the best of the contest's entries have been placed on display in one of the College hall show cases, to be voted on at the next student election.

Drama Instructor's Kin Passes Away

Thomas H. Bond, father of Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, wife of the head of the drama department, died at St. Joseph hospital recently after a short illness.

Mr. Bond had been a resident of Orange county for the past 18 years.

'Disappearance' of 14-year-old Genius Is Solved Here

Mystery of the sudden disappearance of Herbert Sullivan, 14-year-old child genius from classes here was solved today with the announcement that he had dropped school because of a serious injury to his mother.

Mrs. Sullivan, a former teacher in the Los Angeles city school system, was injured critically in an automobile accident several weeks ago, and the young prodigy, who received most of his education from his mother, has quit college.

New Section To Be Used In Del Ano

This year's Del Ano will be kept "as simple as possible" according to Carroll Richardson, yearbook editor. The staff is now working on a "book within a book" plan for the annual. Color is also expected to be introduced into the book.

One of the sections this year will be the candid camera section of life on the campus, stated Richardson.

Most of the football pictures have been taken, and the faculty section is also nearing completion, Richardson said. An effort is being made to photograph mid-term graduates before Christmas in order to ease next semester's work on the book.

Mrs. Eleanor Northcross is acting as literary advisor, and George B. Holmes, business manager, for the publication.

Alumni Featured In Local Play

Three former jaycee students, Agnes Brady, Joe Yocam, and James Doyle, have featured roles in the Santa Ana Community Players' presentation, "Accent on Youth," to be given next Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 and 10, at the Ebell clubhouse.

Miss Doyle and Yocam have leading character parts in the production, which was shown successfully on the New York stage the past season, while Doyle appears as comedy actor.

Post To Use New Print Process

Replacing the linoleum blocks used in former issues, a new system of lithographing will be used for illustrations in the present semester's Tavern Post, Carroll Richardson, business manager of the magazine, said today.

Approximately 1000 copies will be printed in anticipation of a greatly increased circulation, Richardson stated. The publication is free to Associated Students, and 15 cents a copy to non-associated students.

The present Post will continue the Froth section inaugurated last year, in addition to the regular prose and poetry departments.

Planetarium Visited By Astronomy Students

"The Effect of Sun Spots on the Aurora Borealis" was the subject of a lecture delivered to approximately 65 jaycee astronomy students this week, when they visited Los Angeles Griffith park planetarium, under the supervision of Mrs. John Tessmann, instructor.

Because of the size of classes, trips to the observatory were made on both Monday and Wednesday afternoon.

Splinters From the Bench

By TOM POWELL—Sports Editor El Don

(An open letter)

To Ray Bandel, Right End, Fullerton Jaysee Hornets, Fullerton Junior College.

Dear Ray:

Apparently there is still much confusion and controversy regarding the disputed touchdown pass you "caught" after it had been juggled by two or three Dons in the last period of the Thanksgiving classic last week.

Realizing that the score cannot be changed we still would like to get the real TRUTH from someone who is qualified to answer the touchdown question, and you appear to be the logical person to ask. "Did you really catch the pass before the ball touched the ground, Ray?"

Our men claim that they intercepted the ball and grounded it. We want you to have a chance to explain your side of the question. We don't particularly care about the score now. That's in the records. What we DO want is the inside of that melee that even the officials couldn't see through.

We congratulate the Fullerton team for the remarkable play they showed. Especially Aubrey Minter. Comments were made here that the gridders fought cleaner than did the FANS in the stadium AFTER THE TILT.

This is the first time that we had ever heard a public address system announcer show such "tact" and "sportsmanship" when they referred to a really clean player as "SLUGGER DeVELBISS." What do you think? When rivalry reaches such a point as this, it indicates that clean sports can no longer exist between two colleges which incidentally are supposed to be institutions of higher learning.

We would greatly appreciate an answer from you Ray, and space will be reserved for your reply which we hope will be received by Wednesday noon in order to meet next week's deadline.

Yours sincerely,
TOM POWELL

Again we stick our necks out... Who's gonna win in the Rose Bowl? Put us down as saying that Duke will keep her unbeaten, untied, and unscored-on record this year.

Students Rate TCU With Duke As Rose Bowl Foes of Troy

The recent poll indicates that, while Duke was never scored upon, Texas Christian was greatly favored because of the colorful game it plays.

GIVE STUDENT OPINION

Reactions of football enthusiasts of the local campus follow: Frank Was—"USC—Duke. To win—reason, unbeaten, untied, unscored upon."

Vivian Stanley—"I'll pick USC and Duke. After seeing USC mop up the floor with Cal, I wouldn't have another team in the Rose Bowl. From the East we'll have Duke university."

GRIDDER LIKES TCU

Larry Timken—"I wanted TCU to come to the Rose Bowl and play the Trojans. I like this outfit because it can play any style of ball and really makes an exciting game of it. This Davey O'Brien would be worth seeing. The record shows well for the boys from Texas."

Don Rader—"USC and Duke. USC is strongest by the standings and Duke is the most eligible Eastern team. They both have about equal power."

Henderson Named Don of the Week

Sam Henderson, reserve back for the jaysee eleven, won Don-of-the-week honors this week as a result of his performance in the Thanksgiving battle with the Fullerton Hornets which ended in a 13-13 draw.

Fans who voted in the weekly popularity poll made their selections on the program and the count was made by a local clothier, sponsor of the award.

This is the final balloting for the most popular football player.

Bette Gross—"Tennessee and USC were my choices for the Both teams showed up well during the season and would have played a real thriller."

Gridders May Play '39 Oregon Frosh

Possibility of a '39 grid trip into Oregon for a game with the University of Oregon frosh was seen here today as Coach Bill Cook awaited the visit of Coach Tex Oliver of the Webfeet.

Guarantee of expenses for the trip is the sole barrier to the journey at present. The Dons have two or three open dates on their schedule that the Oregon game would fit into.

Graduation Exacts Toll of Don Stars

Although hampered somewhat by the loss of a large number of sophomores, the Don football team of 1939 promises to be a real threat in the pennant scramble of the Eastern conference.

The mainstays of the 1938 squad who will be lost by graduation are Larry Timken, Gil Nehrig, Jack Lentz, Cy Lievermann, Pete Kotlar, Johnny Joseph, Hal Tucker, Ted DeVelbiss, Vern Rutledge, Dick Saunders, Virgil Stevens, Lynn Arnett, Chuck Stafford, and Carrol Joy.

Announce Schedule For Local Quintet

Chaffey's Panthers, victors over the Dons last year, 48-39, are scheduled to be the first league opponents of the local 1939 model cage machine that will roll into action at Ontario, Jan. 13, it was learned today from Head Coach Bill Cook.

Gil Nehrig Named On Second Team

Lanky Johnny Joseph, co-pilot of the red and black varsity was given the highest honor a coach can bestow on an individual player today when Coach Bill Cook named him as left end on his all-time team which is composed of outstanding jaysee football stars.

Next in line for recognition of exceptional performance is left tackle Gil Nehrig whose consistent play and gameness in the line earned him a spot on the second team of Cook's star-studded roster.

Placing Joseph at left end moves Fred Erdhaus who starred for the Dons in 1936, to second string position. Erdhaus is now playing end for Arizona.

Miles Norton, guard, is playing his last year at U. S. C. Danny Boyd is playing for Fresno State. He is coming up fast and will probably make the trip to Hawaii with the regulars.

"Rusty" Roquet is in his first year at Troy where he may develop into a regular on the S. C. varsity.

QUARTERBACK UNCHANGED

Quarterback position has been held by the same man since '28, Blanchard Beatty, who played under Cook in 1928, and came back to assist in coaching duties until last year. He was replaced by Johnny Ward, former coach of Garden Grove.

Coach Cook's all-time teams are:

First Team	Second Team

H. Hylton '29	RT...Gil Nehrig '38
M. Norton '33	RG...C. Benson '36

Fullerton Ties Local Eleven On 'Pass'

Struggling furiously throughout the entire game, the Fullerton Yellowjackets and Santa Ana's Dons brought the annual Thanksgiving classic played at the Fullerton stadium to a 13-13 tie.

On the short end of a score in the final four minutes of play, the Yellowjackets scored a much-disputed touchdown and converted to bring the game to a draw.

If Santa Ana Really Wants The JC—Must Pay For It

Once again the question of providing adequate facilities for junior college students arises. That the issue is not dead, and that the need is even greater, cannot be challenged.

The board of education has expressed its willingness to do all in its power to house jaysee students and offer all that is possible in academic lines. The policy is not to discourage young people from attending the college because of the lack of room.

Realizing this, we still have faith in the ultimate achievement of our goal—a new junior college campus.

It is unquestionably true that much misunderstanding on the part of influential civic bodies resulted in the narrow margined defeat of the recent bond election. Since then, various groups have taken it upon themselves to become acquainted with phases of the college situation, and probably would be willing to support another bond vote.

Another phase of the situation is that the local board justifiably frowns upon a union district after having exhausted all other means of trying to get some sort of cooperation from other school districts. Yet, if Santa Ana voters do not want the college, some such proposal may have to be made—at Santa Ana's loss.

The issue is still a vital one. Santa Ana wants its jaysee, but it must pay for it.

Lecture Room Freedom

Announcement by Governor-elect Culbert L. Olson that professors and instructors at California state universities would be permitted to express their views in the lecture room is gratifying.

According to reports, professors will be allowed freedom of expression regarding pertinent topics of the day—without fear of being chastised. While instructors may have said what they pleased in their classes before the announcement, it is satisfying to hear such an opinion expressed by public officials.

It seems that too much has been said in the past about "red" school system. It is our opinion, however, that all the hollering about subversive activities in our state universities is done to detract the public's attention from something far more important.

Freedom of expression is one of the greatest heritages we in this country have. And we shouldn't let it be hampered by a few "crack pot" public officials who want the public to think they are safeguarding the people's interests by muffling such expression. Merely because a professor may not agree with the current governmental regime is no reason to put a ban on him.

It is only through this freedom of speech that true enlightenment of current problems can be brought about.

Of Interest to Scholars

Each December jaysee students are reminded that the semester soon will be ended, and that university scholarships are available to outstanding and worthy students.

Director D. K. Hammond again urges students to consider these awards, and to take action toward their application at an early date. Full particulars concerning the various scholarships offers to students are available now in the college office.

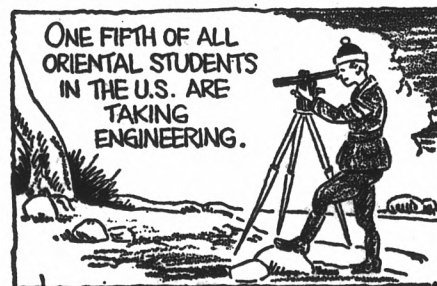

It is a signal honor both to the student and the college to receive a worth-while scholarship from a prominent advanced educational institution, for the ability and standing of the faculty is reflected by each of these prizes and awards.

Do not hesitate to investigate the current awards if you are among those qualified to take advantage of any of the college offers. Begin now to plan for next year.—D. M.

● Ox-carts, dust, lack of buildings recalled as SANTA ANA OF 1870 PICTURED

Modern Santa Ana motorists would have fared rather badly if they were required to drive in the city of sixty years ago, in the opinion of John B. Joplin, local publisher, who for over sixty years has been a resident of Orange county.

Mr. Joplin is assisting at the present time in the compilation of an Orange county history, and the Santa Ana of days gone by contrasts startlingly with the city he sees today.

MAIN DUSTY

"To drive down Main street of the 1870's, which followed the same route it does today, would have obliged considerable maneuvering for a motorist, were it possible for him to make the transition.

"Minus surfacing of any kind, the dusty thoroughfare was hardly wide enough at that time for one-way traffic. In rainy weather, passage would have been practically impossible, for the street was a veritable quagmire during wet seasons.

FEW BUILDINGS

"Full visibility at the intersections would have been the motorist's only consolation, for Santa Ana had built but a few small, wooden buildings along Main street in the 1870's.

"Traffic hazards for an automobile would have been at a minimum, too, for travel was infrequent. Trips to town by Orange county residents were few and far between, for such a trip entailed hitching the team to the buckboard, a far more difficult job than stepping on a starter," Mr. Joplin said.

OXEN NUMEROUS

"Should the motorist be one that fumes at the drivers of today's transport trucks because they are slow in pulling over, he would have been even more exasperated on being caught behind the "truck" of sixty years ago.

"Freight transports then were huge, high-wheeled ox-carts, drawn by eight lumbering oxen, and they wouldn't have pulled over for anything less than a locomotive," Mr. Joplin advises. To try to pass one of these conveyances on Main street, had an opening presented itself, would have meant risking a stall in the ditch.

DRIVERS TOUGH

Nor would it have availed the motorist at all to berate the drivers—besides, they were tall, strapping fellows in their rough-shod boots, and they carried a heavy bull whip slung over their shoulders.

To be sure, the modern motorist fares much better with the stop-signs and minor traffic delays of today than he would were he to drive down Main street in Santa Ana sixty years ago; take it from John B. Joplin.—M. P. SMITH

CAMPUS MIRROR

FIVE YEARS AGO

The first annual alumni edition of El Don was published. It was mailed to nearly all of the 900 alumni.

Boulder Dam was the site of a four day field trip made by 18 members of the American Association of Engineers.

TWO YEARS AGO

Vic Rowland, chairman of the Agenda, semi-annual conference, announced Santa Ana as its site. Fifteen junior colleges of Southern California were to be represented.

Debaters of Riverside Junior college came here to meet those of Santa Ana Jaysee in the first debate of the forensic season.

Los Angeles' Cubs invaded Santa Ana with the Southern California title at stake, but were stopped 9-0. The Dons rolled up a total of 19 first downs, while the Cubs could garner but one.

ONE YEAR AGO

Santa Ana clashed with San Bernardino for the Eastern conference championship after tying them 7-7 earlier in the season. However, another tie, 6-6, resulted, and the two elevens were named co-champions.

Represented by Ernest Barrett, Jack Hutton, Isamu Masuda, Dick Geeting, James Bartlett, and Christine Burbank, Santa Ana opened its first round Eastern conference debating at San Bernardino by winning six out of eight debates and tying Fullerton for first place.

● Students On Parade El Don Mail Box

SANTA ANA, Nov. 30—(To the Editor of El Don):—I want to thank publicly the Lions, Rotary, and Kiwanis service clubs for their kind gesture in donating the funds to send me to San Mateo with the football squad, and to see the California-Stanford game.

Thank you very much.
DANNY FRIAS

CARROLLING

Now to go into my song. . . . This is the season of the year when ordinary mortal males are in a constant state of agony as the result of a conspicuous absence of good food. Here is a typical victuals schedule:

The entire week preceding Thanksgiving: Food scarce; gott save up for Turkey day dinner. The day after Thanksgiving: Leftovers.

Two days later: Hash. One week later: Scraps. And the same unerring schedule is maintained for Christmas, New Years, and all points between—Jeeves, the bicarbonate. . . .

Here is one that is old enough to vote, and it won't register: "What a lovely cake you baked for me. It even has my name on it; but isn't it a little flat?" "Yes, I did that putting through the typewriter."

Cap'n. Gowne says the big difference between a purge in Europe and in the United States is that those purged over there don't eat breakfast the following day or dinner, or lunch. . . .

If it isn't one thing it's: Tom Powell nursing a lacerated lower lip; darn these guys that hit you in the face from behind, say Tom. . . . Betty Hammond, settled down in junior college after studying a year in Europe. Must seem pretty tame, after the Alps. . . . Don Brown, talking of San Francisco, the old home town. . . . Margaret Schmitz hawking news for a local daily. . . .

First chance you get, take a tour of the campus classrooms. Odds are pretty slim that you've seen the physics room in the lower regions of College hall. . . . slimmer still that, unless you major in science, you've seen both the zoology domain of Instructor J. Russell Bruff and H. A. Scott's rock and fossil collection in the geology rooms. . . .

Most unusual of all is the pottery workroom of Art Instructor Lucinda Griffith. . . . oh yes, we've a college here, even though you only see the part that you are obliged to see by your curriculum.—C. R.

● Campus Wit Gives BITS O' HUMOR

Barber: Well, sonny, what kind of a haircut do you want?
Small boy: I want one just like dad's, with a hole in the top.

Twiddle: I don't know, why?
Twiddle: To keep a check on his midsection.

He: Please!
She: No!
He: Just this once!
She: No, I said!
He: Aw, shucks, maw, all the rest of the kids are going bare foot!
